

Streamlined Warehouse Processing for a Pharmaceutical Giant with the Help of Batch Tracking Solution

Business Challenge

The client is one of the top-most pharmaceutical companies in the world. They produce and sell multiple pharmaceutical formulations and active pharmaceutical ingredients (APIs).

Lack of a digital approach as the existing manual procedure didn't provide an effective way to capture the batch movement across all stages of production

The client has manufacturing locations across the country, and each location has multiple production blocks within its premises. Also, these blocks have various facilities which are used for manufacturing different products.

Need for automation to assure discipline and streamlining in the batch movement

Our Solution

The client partnered with us to overcome the challenges mentioned above and attain enhanced visibility of the batch movement at various stages.

Based on the requirement, we implemented the batch tracking solution, which helped achieve the below advantages:

- Visibility of the batch movement at every stage within a facility/ plant
- An insight on the overall time taken at various stages through which the batch is moved with the help of a stabilized tracking system

Benefits Derived

-  Improved Efficiency by 11%
-  Enhanced quality control
-  Improved reporting to value chain stakeholders
-  Greater inventory control
