

Driving Business Transformation with Our SAP Partnership*

Igniting SAP Opportunities for
Today's Intelligent Enterprises

Key Market Trends

The global SAP digital services ecosystem market size is expected to reach around US$ 90 billion by 2026, with rising CAGR of 7.5% throughout the forecast period 2019-2026. (Source: Acumen Research)

A significant factor driving the global SAP market are advantages offered by SAP, an increased use of ERP solutions amongst small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) and an increase in SAP digital services in developing economies. (Source: Acumen Research)

Migration into digital platforms and increased SAP S/4HANA deployment is boosting the adoption of a cloud database that will increase its traction in the forecast period. (Source: Acumen Research)

Move to S/4HANA is the top-most priority amongst organizations which are looking for a digital transformation, and this is primarily driven by increased C-level focus on creating an "intelligent enterprise." (Source: CIO)
